SUPREME COURT.
All day yesterday was spent over an assault case, King vs. A. Cuthbert and A. Fraser. This was a case of fighting which took place at Ray, Alta. In passing sentence this morning his Worship Judge Scott referred to the necessity of stamping out such occurrences in the country. He referred to the hitherto good character of the accused but said it was necessary to make an example of them. A Cuthbert was sent to the guard room of the North-West Mounted Police barracks at Fort Saskatchewan for one month with hard labor. A Fraser was given the option of paying a fine of twenty dollars and costs or one month's imprisonment. He paid the fine.

King vs. Logan. The next case to come up this morning was S. Logan charged with stealing a horse and saddle from John Logan on October 10th. This case was laid over for a couple of days.

King vs. Tyson. The next case to come up was that of Stephen Tyson, of Rabbit Hills, who was charged with feloniously entering the residence of Emily Bone, at Rabbit Hills, and destroying a great deal of household furniture and stealing rings and other valuables. This case is still in progress, and is attracting considerable interest. J. C. F. Brown is appearing for the defence, and C. deW. McDonald is prosecuting.

PERSONAL.
A Ritchie, postmaster at Vegreville is in town today.

Tribune.—Frank Marriaggi has returned from a western trip. While away he visited Edmonton, where he renewed old acquaintances. He says that this town has a great future before it.

—The Clara Mathes Company played to a well filled house last night in presenting the Irish play, A Daughter of Erin. The play caused continuous laughter and amusement from start to finish and the players were all exceedingly good. Lawrence and Captain Ingram, respectively, played in the usual excellent style. M. W. Marsh as Shaun Cregan and Clara Mathes as Sheila, the heroine of the play, were greatly enjoyed, and received much applause. Miss Lawrence as Mrs. Lavender, kept the audience in laughter. One of the most interesting and amusing characters of the play was played by R. R. Sawyer, who in whole play took the part of Teddy Riley. Sawyer has certainly won the high appreciation of Edmonton audiences, and his every appearance on the stage is greeted with applause. The company plays A Woman from Martinique this evening and tomorrow evening, their last performance, The Resurrection.

COUNCIL MEETING

Eastern Capitalists Want a Street Railway Franchise—More Sidewalks.

The regular meeting of the Edmonton city council was held yesterday evening. Mayor Short and Councillors Gallagher, Grierson, Ross, Cushing and Fraser were present. The minutes of last meeting were read and adopted.

Communications.
The W. H. Hooper Company advised the council that they were having shipped to them from a British Columbia lumber company probably the largest piece of timber ever squared. They asked permission from the council to use part of the road in front of their shops to display the piece of timber. The secretary was instructed to inform the company that it was not within the power of the council to grant their request.

O. M. Biggar asked the council to meet him to discuss the terms upon which they would grant a street railway franchise to a company of eastern capitalists. This was agreed to.

Joe Hostry requested the opening up of a street from his residence to Second street. This was granted, the street to be opened up twenty-five feet wide.

Mr. Peck drew to the attention of the council the differences existing in water rates. In some cases the meter rates were lower than the flat rates. In other cases from the information brought up, it appeared the meter readings were not an index to the amount of water used. The fire, water and light committee was instructed to confer with Messrs. Peck and Ashbridge and fully investigate this matter, and report at the next meeting of the council.

City solicitor Beck announced that in his opinion the council could not properly allow Mr. Fry to tap the pipes, as he had requested, for the laying of water and sewer service connections. The secretary was instructed to inform Mr. Fry of this decision.

J. R. Brennan's request for the purchase of water from the town was also dealt with by Mr. Peck. The question was referred back to Mr. Peck, advising him that in the opinion of the council it is desirable that the town should sell water to the watermen, and further instructing him to take all the necessary steps to protect the town in the premises, the fire, water and light committee conferring with Mr. Peck on this point.

W. T. Ashbridge informed the council that the Northey Company had agreed to pay the expense of cutting man holes in the vent pipes at the power house. This communication was filed.

In a further report Mr. Ashbridge announced that the water tower was now completed and the housing was now in progress. A heater will be installed in the basement for the warming of the water in the stand pipe. Different valves, etc., have been ordered for the stand pipe.

Joe E. Bull, district manager of the Bell Telephone Company, announced that the Bell Company intended erecting poles in Edmonton for their long distance telephone line from Cardston and Calgary. The solicitor was instructed to confer with the Bell Telephone Company's licensee regarding this matter.

Jas. Gordon wrote the council regarding the matter of the purchase by the city of shade trees for boulevarding purposes. Mayor Short had received letters on this matter from the principals of the experimental farms at Brandon and Indian Head. The question of starting a nursery for the growing of these trees at Edmonton was referred to a committee consisting of the mayor and Councillor Fraser for investigation and report.

K. Colling was granted a raise of salary of ten dollars a month and Mr. Goodridge a raise of five dollars a month.

Petitions.
The petition of U. S. Bolster and others praying for the removal of the water tank, was referred to the city solicitor and the fire, water and light committee, with power to act.

The following petitions for sidewalks were read:
Six-foot sidewalk on the east side of Fifth street, from Jasper to McKenzie avenues.

Six-foot sidewalk on the east side of Second street from Athabasca to McKenzie avenue.

Six-foot sidewalk on the west side of Second street from Athabasca avenue to Peace avenue.

Six-foot sidewalk on the west side of First street from end of the present walk to Peace avenue.

These petitions were granted, the work to proceed in order of priority.

LOCAL.

—Harold Nelson and his company are showing in Calgary this week.

—The Legislative Assembly for the Territories met in Regina this morning.

—The Namayo Presbyterian church will hold an anniversary social on the 16th of November.

—The Sutherland Pat'on entertainment which was to have taken place in Stratheona Thursday evening has been cancelled as the company have been called east.

—Herald.—M. L. Madsen arrived in Ponoka on Friday with his telephone gang, consisting of some forty men. This week they have set the poles for the long distance line through town and are now working northward from here, making good progress during the good weather. Mr. Madsen informs us that unless some unforeseen hindrance arise the line will be completed and in working order through to Edmonton before the end of the year.

—A petition which received numerous signatures was circulated yesterday afternoon, requesting the removal of the water tank from Jasper avenue east. The tank, which is now situated immediately east of the Temperance hotel, is one of the busiest places in the city. In getting to the tanks the watermen have to cross and then recross the sidewalk. The water splashing from the tanks as well as the practically constant leakage from the large tank makes a large mudhole, which besides being a great obstruction, is very unsightly. At this point too, the sidewalk is always wet and muddy.

—The annual meeting of the Edmonton branch of the Lord's Day Alliance was held in the Baptist church last night. There was a large attendance. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, Rev. D. G. McQueen, Vice presidents, all the local ministers, both Protestant and Roman Catholic; Secretary Treasurer, George McLeod. An executive committee of two members from each of the local churches is yet to be appointed.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29TH, 1903.

FROM OTTAWA.

Bulletin Correspondence.

The annual report of confidence motion of His Majesty's loyal opposition was moved in parliament yesterday by Mr. A. C. Bell, of Pictou, Nova Scotia, in a speech of considerable length. The conclusion of Mr. Bell's speech was as follows:

"That this House desires to place on record the opinion that the expenditure for the year 1903 and the proposed expenditure for the year 1904 are excessive and extravagant, and that it views with alarm the course of the government towards ever-increasing expenditure, its failure to reduce the public debt by maintaining a high rate of taxation, and its adding to capital expenditure and to the obligations of the country, enormous sums for which the country cannot receive adequate returns."

It will be considered remarkable by anyone who has not followed the course of events during the present session of parliament that such a motion should have been proposed by the opposition, which from the beginning to the end of the session has persistently and on all occasions either actively supported the alleged extravagant expenditure of the government or has demanded still greater and still more extravagant expenditure. The very last want of confidence motion moved by the leader of the opposition on Saturday last for a fast Atlantic line asked the House to ensure the government, that is to say, to put the government out of power, because it had not been willing to pay more than the cost of a million dollars in order to secure a fast Atlantic steamship line. It is the climax of hypocrisy within four days after supporting such a resolution for the opposition to go on record as "viewing with alarm" the course of the government towards ever-increasing expenditure. It may be mentioned that the sum of one and a half million dollars per year, which the opposition was willing to spend to secure a fast Atlantic line, and condemned the government for not making, would practically mean an addition to the debt of the country of fifty million dollars at three per cent interest, or practically the total indebtedness assumed by the government in respect of the government section of the Transcontinental Railway from Winnipeg to Montreal, but without the provision contained in the Transcontinental Railway agreement, that although the government borrows the money, the company agrees to pay the interest. The proposition in regard to the fast Atlantic line was the same as if the government were to build the transcontinental railway from Montreal to Winnipeg, and then lease it to the Grand Trunk Pacific company without rental. The transcontinental railway which the government has assumed since it took office, and yet the opposition was prepared, according to the statements made by the leader and according to the amendments proposed to the Transcontinental Bill moved by him, to incur an equal expenditure without equal assurances of practical results. It is a fair subject for argument whether or not the government expenditure has really been excessive and extravagant; whether it should or should not have more greatly reduced the public debt, and whether it should or should not have maintained as high a rate of taxation. But the opposition which persistently urged the government to still greater expenditure, which thereby urged it on a course which should increase instead of reducing the public debt, and on a policy of higher capital campaign on the part of the government, is no fair political critic, and is not the foe of those who honestly criticize the government's course.

The Minister of Finance replied most effectively. He claimed that expenditure when exceeded revenue, as under the Conservative government, was excessive to a degree that expenditure which kept well within revenue, as under this government, was not. A wise expenditure, he said, was the true economy, and held that although the great property of the country was due in the first place to the exertions of the people and to the blessings of Providence an administration of public affairs based on sound judgment and making proper and necessary expenditures, had its share in contributing to that prosperity. Prosperity was still on the increase as shown by the revenue returns. From the 1st of July to the 21st of October this year the revenue was $2,620,000 in excess of the revenue for the same period last year. Mr. Bell's resolution was defeated by a vote of 68 to 30.

On the vote of half a million dollars for surveys of the government section of the transcontinental railway, Hon. Mr. Fielding said that six survey parties would be put in the field between Montreal and Quebec, and 14 between Quebec and Winnipeg. The Grand Trunk Company had had a number of survey parties working between Quebec and Winnipeg for some months past. Their work, if found satisfactory, would probably be taken over by the government. The item passed without objection.

During the afternoon, Mr. Broder, M.P. for Dumas, brought up the case of Trooper Mulloy, of the C.M.R., who lost the sight of both eyes by a wound received on service in South Africa; and also the cases of all disabled South African veterans. These men were now receiving a British pension, but it was entirely inadequate for their reasonable support. Mr. Mulloy had been entirely incapacitated from employment, and his pension was only 35 cents a day. Messrs. Oliver, Sprague, Gailher and Hughes supported the suggestion. The premier expressed his deep sympathy with the affliction of Trooper Mulloy and others who had suffered in South Africa. He said that Mulloy's case could not be dealt with separately from the others. The matter had been engaging the attention of the government and he promised that the Minister of Militia would make a statement on the subject before the close of the session.

The first part of the day was occupied in the renewal of the battle of the mail bags. The first gun was fired by the leader of the opposition, who complained that the Speaker had refused to allow the further storage of mail bags containing Conservative literature in the corridors of the House. At the present time several of the corridors are piled on both sides six feet high with mail bags. The leader of the opposition made the claim that the privilege of parliament had been interfered with by the Speaker, and that room should be found in the buildings in which to pile these bags and sent so far as to dare the Speaker to exercise his authority as he had undertaken to do. This precipitated a very warm discussion, in which the postmaster general and Mr. Taylor, whip of the opposition, took the leading parts. The literature comes addressed to Mr. Taylor, and, therefore, it is his charge.

The minister said that the Montreal Star having been refused further mail bags by the Post Office Department had asked to be relieved from this disability. The postmaster general had replied that as fast as they had returned the bags that they had misused by including in them matter which was not newspapers, they would be given an increased supply. In order to enable the bags to be emptied the old railway committee room had been placed at the disposal of Mr. Taylor. The postmaster general said that the mail could only be forwarded at the rate of about forty bags a day, owing to the lack of accommodation in the postal cars. That is to say, the postal cars were unable to accommodate the ordinary mails, and about forty extra bags were sent by extra mail. There were still 1,830 bags of this mail matter in and around the parliament buildings and the Ottawa post office. With what was still coming in day by day it would take 60 days to get this mail out at the present rate of forty bags a day. And then was developed at last the cause of the unreasonable and hitherto mysterious lengthening of the session. Mr. Taylor, replying to the postmaster general said that he knew the franking privilege would cease as soon as parliament rose, and that if it took sixty days to forward this amount of mail matter, parliament would have to sit during that length of time. That is to say, in order to enable the opposition to abuse the franking privilege at a saving to themselves of some $14,000, parliament was to be kept in session for two months. When such a threat was actually made and reiterated on the responsibility of the chief official of the opposition party, it can only be taken as evidence that the unnecessary obstruction which had already occurred was with the plain and simple view and purpose of holding the session long enough to enable this campaign literature to be distributed throughout the mails at the cost of the country. There have been unfortunately many exhibitions of littleness in Canadian politics, but this is the climax of subserving the interest of the country to the use of a party. A calculation as to the actual saving may be in order. Taking the postmaster general's count that yesterday there were 1,830 bags still in use containing this literature which has been in process of being forwarded since some time in September at the rate of forty bags a day, it is fair to suppose that up to date there have been in all 2,500 bags distributed; and from the stand made by Mr. Taylor, it may fairly be expected that not less than 300 more are to come, or say 3,000 in all. Each bag is estimated to contain on an average 800 separate envelopes or wrappers containing printed matter of one kind or another. The regulation postage rate would be one cent per wrapper, $5 a sack, or $24,000 in all. A very considerable sum of money, truly, but surely not such a sum as would warrant the keeping of parliament in session and the delaying of the business of the country for two months in order that it might be saved to the individuals whose persons or party interests are to be served by its issue. It may be as well in this connection to remember that the franking privilege is given to the electors and their representatives during a session of parliament. That is to say, to enable the electors to send letters to their representatives free of postage, and to enable representatives to send to the electors information regarding the proceedings of parliament. The privilege was distinctly in the interest of the electors at large rather than in the interest of their representatives or of either party. Of course, once the privilege is accorded it is impossible to distinguish between legitimate and illegitimate matter; that is, between matter which, according to the principle upon which the privilege is based, is entitled to free passage through the mails and matter which is not so entitled. This being the case, grave abuses have come up and matter is franked through the mails which it was never intended should be. It has been the custom in the past for both political parties to use the privilege for the dissemination of their respective campaign literature. This was an abuse of the privilege, but so long as it was within reasonable bounds no complaint was made. In this case, however, it will be admitted that it has gone beyond all reasonable bounds. When the mail service of the country was blocked, and when even the Houses of Parliament were impeded by the piling up of this literature, and when the postal revenues of the country are lost to the extent of $24,000 of what should be paid for by party organization, it is high time to reconsider the situation and preliminary to its reconsideration, to be for the facts as they exist to be placed fully and fairly before the public, so that the blame for the impeding of the mail service and the robbery of the revenue, as well as the delay in parliamentary business may be placed where it properly belongs.

In respect to the petition for a sidewalk on Second street, river lot 12, the secretary treasurer was instructed to inform the petitioners that the petition was not sufficiently signed.

A petition was presented asking for the extension of the waterworks system to serve the residents along Fifth street from Jasper to McKenzie avenue. The secretary treasurer was instructed to inform the petitioner that this would be an impossibility this season.

A number of west end property holders petitioned the council to have a number of streets brushed and opened. The board of works committee was instructed to deal with this request.

A request was made for a street light at the corner of Victoria avenue and Fifth street, H.B.R. The secretary treasurer was instructed to inform the petitioners that the intended extension of the street lighting system for this year had already been arranged for.

Reports.

The secretary treasurer was instructed to notify the Champion Harvesting Machine Company that the town required the immediate use of the warehouse at present occupied by them.

A. W. Ormsby's report on the street lighting was read. A street light was asked for on McDougall street, near the public school. This request was not granted and the report was adopted.

Councillor Gallagher brought up a case of a family lately arrived in Edmonton who were suffering from destitution. The father was very ill with consumption and unable to work. To allay the immediate distress it was agreed to issue a check for ten dollars in favor of Constable McCallum, as a present aid to the family.

The matter of street obstructions was referred to T. G. Lauder for report.

The question of kalsomining and further renovating the council chamber came up for discussion and was referred to a committee for report.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid:

A LARGE INDUSTRY

Cushing Bros. Company's Factories Doing Very Large Business.

The Cushing Bros. company have enjoyed a large share of this season's general prosperity. Their mills are running to their utmost capacity and their greatly increasing business is demanding a large general increase in the capacity of the mills.

The headquarters of the company are at Calgary, although in quantity of business transacted the Edmonton mills are fast overhauling the business at Calgary. The offices in connection with the Edmonton branch open onto Namayo avenue. Connected with this building is the sash and door warehouse and the glazing room. The glazing department is now taxed to its utmost capacity and a very large amount of work is turned out from it. The factory proper is situated to the rear of these buildings and in the last three years it has increased three hundred per cent. in its output. It is fully equipped with the very latest and best moulding machines, planer, sash and door plants, rip saws and all the machinery usually connected with such establishments. One feature of the business is the large amount of special work turned out, such as store fittings, church pews, etc. For this work there are six benches, at which men are regularly and constantly employed. One very noticeable feature of the whole establishment is the extreme neatness on every side. The mill is equipped with a complete system for taking out the shavings and other small refuse. All this is collected in a room adjoining the engine room. A very noteworthy fact in connection with this is that although in most mills this necessary refuse is not nearly sufficient for fuel for the furnaces, so great is the amount of work transacted in this mill, that the shavings are sufficient to provide more than the necessary amount of fuel. This arrangement keeps the mills clean and neat, and what is more important, free from all dust. A very good feature of the plant is the dry kiln, in which finishing lumber of all kinds is thoroughly dried. A large stock of British Columbia mottled and finished lumber and shingles and lath, as well as a complete stock of Alberta lumber of all kinds is kept constantly in stock. The mill is provided with its own electric light plant. Fifty lights in all are used.

The company's payroll is deserving of special mention. In the Edmonton branch of their mills there are fifty men in constant employment, receiving a monthly salary of over $2,500. As this force of men is required practically the whole year round, and a great deal of it being skilled labor, these figures will indicate the importance of the industry to the town. A large part of the work of the Edmonton factory goes to supply the company's yards in Strathcona and Fort Saskatchewan, to which latter place it is shipped by river. Over 12 large rafts of lumber, both finished and coarse, have been shipped down the river this summer. The last amount to be shipped was on Tuesday of this week, when a very large amount of lumber was sent down. The great amount of building material required in Edmonton during the present year, has taxed this and similar other mills in Edmonton to their greatest capacity.

In Strathcona Cushing Bros. have a flourishing branch of their business, which has developed very rapidly, owing both to the great progress of the town, and to the enterprise of the company in keeping pace with the growing demands. Owing to the great development of Northern Alberta, and particularly the Edmonton district, this year, a branch establishment has been started at Fort Saskatchewan, which has progressed much more rapidly than the company had expected.

The principal factory business of the company is still in Calgary, but the Edmonton plant, large as it is, is now running at its fullest capacity, and the company are now considering the advisability of a large extension to their establishments. Whether the improvements will be made at Edmonton, or at Calgary, or at both places, is not yet definitely decided.

POLITICS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA
Herald.
Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 26.—There is a new turn in the provincial situation, here caused by the announcement that John Houston, member for Nelson, had been refused a portfolio. Immediately after the election Houston went to Victoria with the declared intention of forcing the government to give him an important portfolio, that of lands and works, and in the event of his not being granted this, he would make the government.

The premier, Mr. McBride, has been ill in bed since Houston's arrival, and he returned to his office on Saturday, and dispatched a note to Mr. Houston, informing him that he could not be granted a portfolio, as there were other members who had more claim to this distinction.

Houston is very bitter against the government in consequence, and he states that he will vote against them when the House meets next month. If he carries out this intention, it may mean the defeat of the Conservative government.

The general opinion among those who know the circumstances, and who are familiar with Houston's "hold-up" methods, is that Premier McBride has taken the proper course in turning down the member for Nelson. His friends believe that it would be more honorable on his part to be defeated than to submit to the bludgeon method of men like Houston.

BANK OF MONTREAL

Montreal, Oct. 23.—The following appointments in the Bank of Montreal were announced today:—Mr. H. V. Macdonald to be Assistant General Manager, and still retain his present position in the Montreal branch, and Mr. C. W. Deane to become Assistant Manager of the Montreal branch, and Mr. W. A. Hog, to become General Accountant.

The general development of the business of the bank and the number of branches that have been added have necessitated the creation of the position of Assistant General Manager.

ALL ROADS LEAD TO EDMONTON

EDMONTON is the centre of attraction of the North-West Territories today. No place in the west occupies such an unique and enviable position. It being the centre of the largest and richest agricultural and mixed farming district in Canada.

The future coal supply depot for the Territories, hence the future manufacturing metropolis of the country. The coming great railway centre of the west. The gateway to the great agricultural, fur and timber country to the north and the distributing point for an area exceeding 900,000 square miles. The extent and far reaching trade of Edmonton is a source of wonderment and surprise to visitors but is only an indication of what it is going to become. Edmonton is to-day one of the greatest distributing points of the world, forwarding goods over an area six times the size of the British Isles.
